

Nicoleta ROMAN (PhD), researcher at "Nicolae Iorga" Institute of History, Bucharest. Areas of expertise: cultural and social history; women, family and childhood history; microhistory and history of pre(modern) Romania and South-Eastern Europe. Member in the editing team of the series Călători străini despre țările române în secolul al XIX-lea [Foreign Travellers about the Romanian Countries in the Nineteenth Century] (2007-2020). Following her PhD thesis on women in nineteenth century Wallachia, Nicoleta Roman started exploring two research fields important for the Romanian and South-Eastern Europe space: childhood history and welfare systems. She had two postdoctoral grants (national and international), she was a member in national and European projects and she also organised scientific events relevant for her research area.

Published volumes: (author), Deznădăjduită muiere n-au fost ca mine. Femei, onoare și păcat în Valahia secolului al XIX-lea ['There has never been a more wretched woman like me'. Women, honour and sin in nineteenth century Wallachia], București, Editura Humanitas, 2016; (editor), Copilăria românească între familie și societate (secolele XVII-XX) [Childhood in Romania, between family and society (17th–20th centuries)], București, Editura Nemira, 2015; (editor), Orphans and Abandoned Children in European History, Sixteenth to Twentieth Centuries, London, Routledge, 2017; (co-editor, with Cătălina Mihalache), Copilării trecute prin război. Povești de viață, politici sociale și reprezentări culturale în România anilor 1913-1923 [Childhoods through the lens of War. Life stories, social policies and cultural representations in Romania (1913-1923)], Iași, Editura Universității „Alexandru Ioan Cuza”, 2021. More information about her research activity and on her publications can be found here <http://iini.ro/Dr%20Nicoleta%20Roman.htm> & here <https://iini.academia.edu/NicoletaRoman>