

Valentin SĂNDULESCU, PhD, Assistant Professor in Jewish Studies, Faculty of Foreign Languages and Literatures, University of Bucharest. PhD in History from Central European University, Budapest. Senior researcher (2015-2018) for the project Post-WWII Anti-Semitic Pogroms in East and East Central Europe: Collective Violence and Popular Culture (funded by the Gerda Henkel Foundation, Germany) and researcher (2015- 2017) for the project “Fragmented Modernities: Intellectual Elites and Historical Transformations in Contemporary Romania” at the “Nicolae Iorga” Institute of History of the Romanian Academy (funded by the Executive Agency for Higher Education, Research, development and Innovation Funding UEFISCDI, Romania). He published extensively on the history and historiography of fascism and anti-Semitism (with an emphasis on the Romanian Iron Guard), and also the history of the Jewish community in Romania.

Selected publications:

“Like coals under ashes, ready to scorch the earth once more: Notes Regarding AntiJewish Attitudes in Romania (1944 - 1947)” in European Review of History: Revue européenne d'histoire, Vol. 26, Nr. 6, (2019), pp. 977 – 995;

“Post-World War II Anti-Semitic Pogroms in East and East Central Europe: Collective Violence and Popular Culture” (co-authors: Péter Apor, Tamás Kende, Michala Loncková) in European Review of History: Revue européenne d'histoire, Vol. 26, Nr. 6, (2019), pp. 913-927.