

Francisca BĂLTĂCEANU (PhD in Philology from the University of Bucharest), was Professor of Biblical Studies at the Catholic Institute of Bucharest; since 2004 she has been delivering courses in OT exegesis at the University of Bucharest. She led several Bible translation projects, the most important of which was the Romanian translation of the Septuagint (NEC-Polirom 2004-2011). Since 2015, together with Monica Broșteanu, she has been coordinating the Romanian translation of the Bible from Hebrew at New Europe College.