

Monica BROȘTEANU (PhD in Philology from the University of Bucharest with a thesis on the Divine Names in the Bible and in the Coran and their translation into Romanian), was associate Professor of Biblical Studies at the Catholic Institute of Bucharest, then she taught Arabic at the Department of Oriental Languages and Literatures at the University of Bucharest; since 2010 she has been teaching NT exegesis for the master program in Religious Studies as well as other master-level courses within the Islamic Space program at the same University. With Francisca Băltăceanu, she is coordinating the Romanian translation of the Bible from Hebrew at New Europe College.