

Silviu TATU (Ph.D. in Theology from the University of Wales, 2006) with a thesis on Systemic Functional Grammar applied to Ugaritic and Hebrew Poetry. He is professor of Old Testament Exegesis and Theology at the Theological Pentecostal Institute in Bucharest. His contributions in translating the Hebrew Bible include Noua Traducere Românească (2007), and the revised edition of the Romanian Bible translated by D. Cornilescu for the Bible Society (then British and Foreign Bible Society). Tatu has penned 15 books and 35 articles published in scholarly journals and volumes both at home and abroad. He is currently engaged in editing a completed translation of the Hebrew Bible for Societatea Biblică din România.