

Cristinel IATAN (Ph.D. in Theology), studied Theology at Faculty of Orthodox Theology, University of Bucharest. He also studied Hebrew, Aramaic and Biblical Archaeology at École Biblique et Archéologique Française de Jérusalem. Now he is Assistant Professor of Old Testament Studies and Biblical Hebrew Language at Faculty of Orthodox Theology in Bucharest and member of the translator's group for Hebrew Bible at New Europe College. He is interested in Old Testament Theology and Exegesis, Hebrew, Aramaic and Old Koine Greek, Biblical Archaeology, Topography of Jerusalem, Second Temple Period, Early Judaism, Qumran, Biblical Geography and ANE Studies.