

Adrian-Nicolae FURTUNĂ

Adrian-Nicolae FURTUNĂ holds a BA in Sociology and an MA in Advanced Sociological Research from the University of Bucharest. He is currently a PhD candidate at the Research Institute for Quality of Life of the Romanian Academy. His doctoral research focuses on the social memory of Romani slavery in Romania. His main research interests include collective memory, social history, and Roma studies.

His publications include Roma Slavery in Wallachia: Fragments of Social History. Sales/Donations of Children. Marriages. Petitions for Emancipation (2019); From Roma Slavery to WWII – Roma Resistance in Romania, in Re-thinking Roma Resistance throughout History: Recounting Stories of Strength and Bravery (2020); Roma Slavery and the Places of Memory: Album of Social History (with C. Turcitu, 2021); Roma and the Question of Ethnic Origin in Romania during the Holocaust (with M. Turda, 2022); Les Lieux de Mémoire and the Legacies of Roma Slavery in the Collective Memory: A Case Study in Tismana, Gorj County, Romania (2023); and Three Documents from the Archive of Roma Enslavement (with A. Pârvulescu and M. Boatcă, 2024).